

&

Tasmanian
Archive and Heritage
Office

PUBLIC LECTURE SERIES

Invitation to a talk by Caitlin Sutton

‘Jack in the box(es): The Personal Records of Tasmanian bushwalker and conservationist Jack Thwaites’.

The bushwalker and conservationist Jack Thwaites amassed a significant collection of personal papers and photographs that span much of the twentieth century. The records not only document his own life, but provide insight into the lives of the charismatic and influential individuals he associated with. The collection is unique in the way it was meticulously organised and described by Jack, and is a valuable resource for researchers. An excerpt from the film FIVE SOUTH WEST featuring Jack Thwaites and Sir Edmund Hillary will be screened at the conclusion.

Time:
Thursday, 2 June
1:00 PM to 2:00 PM

Venue:
The History Room, 2nd floor,
State Library of Tasmania, 91
Murray Street

Jointly Sponsored by the Tasmanian Archive and Heritage Office and the Professional Historians Association (Tasmania)

RSVPs are essential

Please contact:

Caroline Evans
carolineevans@iinet.net.au