Moderate track

Starting from Temple Gorge Campground, Kennedy Ranges National Park, this walk takes you to a sandstone rockface known as the Temple. The walk follows a dry creek bed that can have seasonal pools scattered along the walk. Another highlight of the walk is the changes in the colour of the sandstones with unusual shapes. The walk is tougher towards the end, and there are boulders scattered along the way; hiking shoes are advised. Let us begin by acknowledging the Traditional Custodians of the land on which we travel today, and pay our respects to their Elders past and present.

Start.

Start of an optional side trip: This side trip takes you to the left hand (less challenging) of the gorge. Keep an eye out for the yellow markers.

To start this optional side trip veer left here. Start.

After another 155 m come to the end.

Turn around and retrace your steps back the 155 m to the main route.

Back at the main route continue straight and follow on from the 440 m waypoint.

After another 440 m continue straight.

Continue another 500 m to find the end. Then turn around here and retrace the main route for 930 m to get back to the start.
