Easy track

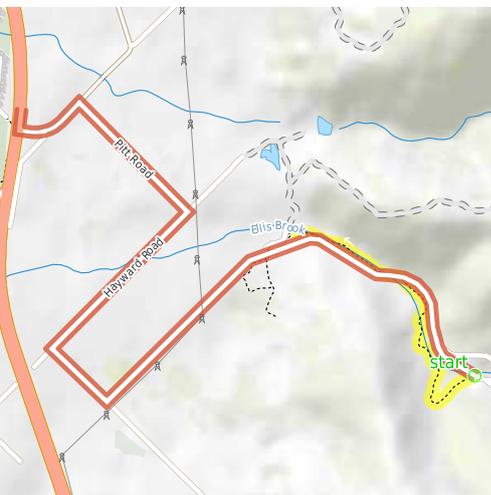

Starting from the car park off Rushton Road, Martin, this walk takes you on a stroll through the Wandoo Woodland, following Ellis Brook. This is a fairly easy walk suitable for beginners in an area with lots of wild birds and plenty of shade. You can have a tranquil experience through the woodland as you traverse with Ellis Brook accompanying you. There are certain rocky places, so you might want to bring hiking shoes with ankle support for a better experience. Please adhere to the 'Dieback Protection Area' rules and use the Cleandown point (COE - Clean on Entry) accordingly. Let us begin by acknowledging the Traditional Custodians of the land on which we travel today, and pay our respects to their Elders past and present.

Getting started: From the end of Rushton Road, head towards the “Dieback Protection Area” sign situated near the boulders on the side of the road. Pass through the said boulders and pass by the sign and head along the little wooden bridge. At the end of the bridge, there is a “Cleansup Point” (COE - Clean on Entry). Please use this point according to the sign. After using the point, head along the subtle dirt walking track as you slowly start moving away from the creek (bed) to your left. Follow the singular track to continue along Blue Wren Ramble Walk.

Start.

After another 830 m continue straight, to head along Rushton Road.

After another 55 m continue straight.

After another 410 m come to a car park.

Turn around here and retrace the main route for 1.3 km to get back to the start.
